Calls for councillor to resign

TAYLOR v HONITON TOWN COUNCIL COURT CASE LEAVES MASSIVE BILL

CALLS are growing in Honiton for John Taylor to resign from the town council after the judicial review he launched against the council is set to cost the taxpayer thousands.

In the week of an election to fill three vacancies on the town council, a website has been launched calling for the voters in Honiton to 'wake up' and condemn Cllr Taylor's actions.

Peter Hodges
Reporter | peter@viewnews.co.uk

Cllr Taylor launched a judicial review in February 2016 against his own council after they imposed sanctions against him following the outcome of a standards committee hearing at East Devon District Council.

EDDC found him in breach of the councillors' code of conduct after a letter he wrote accusing the town clerk of criminal activity in regards to spending on the Beehive became public.

Following the outcome of the EDDC meeting, Honiton Town Council imposed their own sanctions, which Cllr Taylor said they were not allowed to do as it would affect his ability to act as a democratically elected official.

The sanctions were removed, following which the judicial review was launched by Cllr Taylor claiming the town council's actions against him were illegal.

Final costs are yet to be decided, but it is expected that – despite winning the review – Cllr Taylor will pay the majority of the costs after the judge criticised Cllr Taylor and his lawyers for pursuing the case. The council will pay a portion of Cllr Taylor's costs.

On honitonvoterswakeup.weebly.com, the author lists four reasons why they believe Cllr Taylor should resign, they are:

- He accused the town clerk [Chetna Jones] of criminal conduct and refused to apologise;
- He refused to settle with the town council out of court about the council's wrongly imposed sanctions;
- He began a judicial review knowing it would be very costly to the council and which the judge says should never have happened;
- He has incurred large costs for the council and wasted many hours of council officials' time.

The website also accuses Cllr John Zarczynski as being part of Taylor's 'group' as well as the three candidates Cllr Taylor has proposed in the forthcoming election.

Cllr Zarczynski has vehemently denied that he is part of a 'group' and two of the candidates who have been proposed by Cllr Taylor (Mr Darrant and Mr Jones) have reiterated that while they appreciate Cllr Taylor's support, they are independent candidates and will not be part of any group. (See their responses to the allegation on the Letters page - pg13).

Following the outcome of the judicial review, which found that the council was wrong to impose their own sanctions, Cllr Taylor was slammed by the judge presiding over the case.

The Hon Mr Justice Edis said: "There is a somewhat unreal appearance to an argument by a person who is not subject to sanctions, that he ought to be because their revocation was unlawful. It appears to me that this argument was sustained by Cllr Taylor who was seeking some reason to continue with his proceedings when there was no real purpose in doing so."

Cllr Taylor has so far refused to resign from the council, stating he was within his right to take the council to court over the sanctions they imposed.

Cllr Taylor said: "I will not resign for exposing the unlawful actions of 14 councillors [against me]. I will not resign for exposing the borrowing in 2015 of £98,000 to pay 'future bills for the Beehive build' when no such bills have appeared to date and when the town council's agent had advised the fixed priced contract has been exceeded.

"Why was the borrowing done and what has the money been used for?"

■ OFFWELL School's 2016 Key Stage assessments in reading have received congratulations from The Rt Hon Nick Gibb MP, Minister of State for School Standards. Dr Phillip Ambler, chairman of the Offwell School governing board, pictured left with some of the high achieving pupils, said: "I am always proud of the achievements of our children but it can be particularly pleasing when these efforts are publicly recognised."

In his letter to headteacher Mrs Billington, Mr Gibb says Offwell school 'is in the top one per cent of primary schools in England for achievement in reading'.

Further he recognised that Offwell has ensured that all their children have 'the necessary fluency in reading to prepare them for a successful secondary education and beyond'.

Dr Ambler added: "I am fully aware of how hard the staff and children work to produce good results of such a high standard, and have always been delighted with how enthusiastic the children are from age three to 11 to read and talk about books."

CCG remove more hospital beds

HOSPITAL beds in Seaton and Honiton face the same fate as those that were in Ottery St Mary and Axminster – they're being removed by the CCG as part of their controversial move to caring for more people in their own homes.

The decision was made at a meeting of the governing body of the Northern, Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW Devon CCG) on Thursday (March 2nd) and the announcement has left the communities reeling.

CCG board members made the decision following a 13-week consultation which ended at the start of January; Honiton was not even included as one of the options to retain its beds.

The CCG's original preference (Option A) was to keep beds in Tiverton (32 beds), Seaton (24) and Exmouth (16). But following the consultation and further analysis, it was decided that hospital beds should be kept in Tiverton (32), Sidmouth (24) and Exmouth (16) (Option B).

The number of community hospital beds across the Eastern Locality, which covers East Devon, Exeter, Mid Devon and parts of West Devon including Okehampton, will decrease from 143 to 72.

Tiverton and Honiton MP, Neil Parish, fiercely criticised the consultation calling it 'a sham,' highlighting that residents in Axminster and Uplyme will have to travel 15 miles to the nearest community hospital beds.

Mr Parish said: "I can't hide my disappointment at this decision. The CCG have bulldozed through these proposals after a sham consultation."

"Seaton and Honiton hospitals are treasured local assets, with excellent staff and decades-worth of investment by local Leagues of Friends. Honiton is so good it was known as the 'Honiton Hilton' locally and Seaton is a top-quality facility. Now, at the flick of a bureaucrat's pen, both hospitals are set to lose all their beds".

"Although I understand the move towards home care, it's a fact that hospital patients like to be treated and cared for in community beds near to their homes and loved ones, rather than in faraway hospitals where they can feel cut off.

"Honiton and Seaton both serve big rural hinterlands and I am concerned villages and hamlets will soon be cut off. I only hope that local people do not suffer from this decision.

"At a recent meeting in Honiton, CCG board member, Dr David Jenner, gave me a public assurance that comprehensive home care would be in place before any bed closures at Seaton or Honiton.

"I will be holding Dr Jenner's feet to the fire on these promises.

"I will continue to hold NHS chiefs to account on their decisions.

"I have already met with Health Secretary, Jeremy Hunt, on this and will be meeting again to make the case for retaining as many community hospital beds in Devon as possible."

Abbie was found on A303 near Hilltop Garage. A bit disorientated after RTA but hoping her owners are looking for her. She'd love to come home.

www.honiton.cats.org.uk

Following the decision, Dr Tim Burke, chairman of NHS NEW Devon CCG, said: "We know we can do more to prevent unnecessary hospital admissions and support a faster return home for our patients.

"Too many people are in hospitals when they don't need to be there. Every day, up to 600 people are in hospitals (100 of these in community hospitals) who no longer have a medical need to be there.

"There is a growing body of evidence that the solution lies in developing community services outside hospital, which in turn reduces the numbers of people unnecessarily admitted to hospital.

"We need to be focusing more resources on providing better care for people away from hospitals."

Heather Penwarden, Honiton Hospital League of Friends chairman, said: "Honiton Hospital League of Friends are deeply saddened by the decision from NEW Devon CCG to close all the medical beds at Honiton Hospital.

"This is without doubt the end of an era for our community hospital and without, as yet, any indication of what service will be put in place of the medical beds we are extremely concerned for the vulnerable and very sick people in our community.

"We pay tribute to all the nursing and admin staff on our medical ward who have carried on providing first class care to their patients through these most difficult of months.

"On a personal level I am extremely sorry that we have not managed to influence the outcome in a more positive way for the people of Honiton.

"All I can say is that we tried our best with some of us working long hours reading and writing reports and attending meetings and I have to say it has felt a bit like trying to halt a moving train."

Ilminster man charged with Chard rape

POLICE have charged a man with common assault and rape after an alleged incident in Chard.

The incident took place in Jocelyn Park on Friday, February 24th at some time between 3.30pm and 7.45pm, and police have appealed for witnesses.

A police spokesperson said: "A 17-year-old girl was assaulted by a man known to her.

"As a result of our enquiries, a 25-year-old man from the Ilminster area, was charged with common assault and rape and remanded in custody."

DC Catherine King said: "This incident took place in a public place at a time when we are sure there would have been members of the public around.

"We need to hear from anyone who may have witnessed this incident and could help us with our investigation.

"The victim in this case is receiving support from specially trained officers."

ReadEasy group needs extra help to continue

Peter Hodges

Reporter peter@viewnews.co.uk

READEASY Honiton is appealing for volunteers to come forward to help keep the vital operation going.

ReadEasy have sufficient funds and enough coaches to provide the service, but they need to fill key vacancies in their management committee.

Positions they are looking to fill are secretary and more importantly a co-ordinator. If the positions are not filled ReadEasy Honiton will have to consider how they can continue to operate.

ReadEasy Honiton was formed in September 2014 by a group of specialist tutors to provide the opportunity for those adults in the Honiton area to learn to read. The service is provided completely free.

Since that time more than 10 tutors have been trained by ReadEasy UK and a significant number of people have been taught to read or had their reading skills significantly improved.

Colin Sherwood, the group's chairman said: "It will be a huge shame if, in the worst case scenario, we are unable to continue, as many people have been helped to read using our coaches and we know there are very many more within the community who would also benefit from what we do."

"But without someone to co-ordinate the activities we will struggle to organise the sessions and everything that it entails, and to maintain the administrative side of the operation.

"We are currently looking at how these duties can be divided to enable a form of job-share between two or even three individuals, so we would really welcome anyone who might have the skills and time to take on some of these responsibilities."

The co-ordinator's duties mostly revolve around recruiting volunteers and readers, and matching new readers to an appropriate coach. They will also run occasional meetings of the coaches and provide occasional support to readers to ensure they are progressing satisfactorily, as well as maintaining necessary records and arranging training.

Colin explained that the total amount of work involved would take up about two days a week, but if they can recruit more than one volunteer they can divide the duties to make the role more manageable.

He said it would very much suit someone who had time on their hands, wanted to do some charity work and had experience of that type of role.

The secretary's role is less demanding in that they have to take minutes of meetings, distribute the minutes and agendas and deal with any correspondence and enquiries, which are minimal.

If you think you might be able to help, contact Colin on 01404 42130 or email cj.sherwood@btinternet.com.

● IN THE meantime ReadEasy's latest venture to raise funds is a quiz night with a difference. On May 12th, ReadEasy is calling on all quiz teams in the area to come to the Mackarness Hall in Honiton to fight it out and see who will be crowned the Honiton Quiz Champions for 2017. The quiz will be for teams of six and the winners will each receive a trophy.

Fundraiser Rob Sexton has engaged Max Pipe to provide the questions, but he has a brief to make this quiz a bit more challenging than normal, so only the best will win.

It will be based on categories from the TV quiz show Eggheads.

The cost is £7 per head and will go towards covering the refreshments and the prizes. If you'd like to enter a team, contact Rob on 01404 41362 for tickets.

MKM marks six month Honiton anniversary

MKM's Honiton branch has celebrated its half-year anniversary and launch of its new kitchen and bathroom showroom with a special open evening.

The occasion involved free drinks, food and music for MKM Honiton's trade and retail customer base as well as many other members of the public.

The event was laid on at the builders' merchant's location on the Heathpark Trading site, and more than 150 people attended to join in the fun.

MKM Honiton has received a warm welcome since opening its doors in August 2016. The branch has seen strong footfall in its store as well as over the phone, with blocks, cement and aggregates helping to drive sales.

Being one of the Hull-headquartered company's 46 branches, but only its first in the South West, the evening was an opportunity for those interested to learn even more about

MKM. The company places a big emphasis on their relationship with its customers, so the evening was a chance to build even closer ties.

With a hog roast, live music and the opportunity to win a hamper, customers could browse MKM's state-of-the-art kitchen and bathroom showrooms and chat with MKM's dedicated showroom specialists, Anna and Wayne.

Clive Carvell, Honiton branch director, said: "The evening had a great vibe – it was a pleasure to be able to thank everyone and give something back to the community that has welcomed us into the town so warmly."

"Being MKM's first branch in the South West, the team was keen to make a strong first impression, which we hope we have."

"Over the next six months, we're looking to cement the fantastic relationships we've built in Honiton and the surrounding area."

THE team at MKM at Honiton have made a strong impression on the town

Barefoot project help to boost kids' IT skills

MORE than 26,000 primary school pupils in Devon have benefitted from a pioneering education program to boost youngsters' computing skills.

The Barefoot Computing project, which has now reached more than one million pupils UK-wide, helps primary school teachers get to grips with computing so that they can better help their pupils.

Led by BT and the British Computing Society, Barefoot offers free teaching-resources and volunteer-led training workshops, designed to help primary school teachers get confident when teaching computer science and computing skills.

Peter Hodges
Reporter | peter@viewnews.co.uk

It is making a big impact across the UK with over 130,000 resources downloaded and more than 35,000 teachers using those resources.

In Devon, 69 workshops have been held, attended by nearly 1,000 teachers, who have then been better able to help more than 26,000 of their pupils.

Jon Reynolds, chairman of BT's South West regional board, said: "Computing is a vital skill for the future of Devon.

"For the individual, it opens the door to a world of possibilities.

"Businesses and organisations of all types and sizes rely on this technology, whilst households use it for online learning, research and entertainment.

"In the South West BT volunteers are running workshops at schools the length and breadth of the region, giving teachers the confidence to teach computing to young people.

"Those skills will undoubtedly be used to successfully navigate a whole host of real-world challenges as they go through life."

Barefoot was created in response to concerns that many young people today are passive consumers rather than active creators of technology – and risk being left behind.

Findings from research company Ipsos MORI and BT showed how important it is for the UK to step up its efforts on primary school tech literacy. Seventy eight per cent of primary school teachers think tech literacy is as important as reading and writing.

Seventy five per cent strongly agreed it's their job to prepare pupils for a digital world, but only 25 per cent strongly agreed they felt able to do that. Barefoot is designed to address that need.

Liz Williams, BT's director of tech literacy, said: "BT is delighted Barefoot has reached this major milestone, because we know that the next generation's life chances will be improved by being able to thrive in the digital world."

Barefoot is part of BT's Tech Literacy ambition and forms part of the long-term commitment by BT, unveiled in 2015, to help build a culture of tech literacy for the nation, reaching five million young people by 2020.

The Barefoot Computing Project was created in 2014 by a coalition of partners, including the Department for Education, the British Computer Society, BT and Raspberry Pi.

To find out more, access the resources or book a workshop visit www.barefootcas.org.uk

Calls for formal policy on how district councillors engage with youngsters

EAST Devon Conservatives are behind a motion calling on East Devon District Council to introduce a formal protocol for councillors engaging with young people and vulnerable adults.

The move would require all councillors to undergo training and submit to a DBS (formerly CRB) check.

The call for a safeguarding policy received unanimous support when it was considered at a meeting of EDDC's Full Council in February.

EDDC Chief Executive Mark Williams will be tasked with producing a report as the first step towards introducing the new measures as soon as possible.

The motion, proposed by Andrew Moulding, EDDC's Deputy Leader, and Phil Twiss, Cabinet Member for Corporate Services, urges: "That this council introduces a protocol for councillors for safeguarding vulnerable adults and children in the community".

Explaining why he and Cllr Twiss were calling for the new protocol, Cllr Moulding said: "We already have a policy for safeguarding adults, which applies to officers and where necessary to councillors.

"But councillors are increasingly being encouraged to engage more closely with the community and this engagement can often involve meetings with individuals on a one-to-one basis – including vulnerable adults and children.

"The Conservative Group on EDDC recognises the importance of putting the correct safeguarding measures in place and, in so doing, setting an example within the community.

"In the light of this intention and the legal duties falling on this council in respect of the safeguarding of vulnerable adults and children, we're asking the chief Executive to prepare a report on the appropriateness of requiring all councillors to be the subject of a DBS (Disclosure and Barring Service – formerly CRB) check and attending specific safeguarding training".

Cllr Moulding recalled two recent examples where he had spent time with students aged under 18 and had rightly been asked to produce a DBS certificate in order to be with the young people on a one-to-one basis.

"At election times we are also encouraged to engage with young people, often through social media.

"We need to be aware of the protocol regarding various modes of communication. Guidance needs to be robust and training for councillors is an essential element of protection for all concerned.

"We feel the council should be taking a lead on safeguarding. DBS certificates are now transferable and can be used for a range of situations where contact with young people or vulnerable adults is likely or inevitable.

"This will send a clear message that elected members of EDDC take our responsibilities seriously. We hope to see measures put in place as a matter of urgency".

No action taken on Friday assault

A MAN suffered what was described as "minor injuries" during an assault in Axminster, but did not wish to take the matter further.

The incident happened on Friday, February 24th, and a police spokesperson said: "There was a report of an assault in South Street at around 9am, with minor injuries injuries.

"But the victim refused to engage with police."

Business breakfast at golf club

THERE was a marked Axminster presence when Scott Rowe Solicitors held a well-attended business breakfast at Lyme Regis Golf Club, in aid of Julia's House Children's Hospice.

Guests included Axminster mayor Cllr Paul Hayward, tourist information centre manager and accommodation provider Joy Raymond, and town councillor Mervyn Symes, to mention only a few.

Guests networked before sitting down for breakfast on Thursday, February 23rd, and listening to speeches from Capital Media Newspapers Ltd Group Editor Philip Evans and Scott Rowe Solicitors Director and Head of Dispute Resolution Kate Maslen (pictured).

Guests also enjoyed a presentation on the work of Julia's House.

A total of £420 was raised.

School marks World Book Day

■ STAFF and pupils at Axminster Primary Academy spared no effort in making the most of World Book Day on March 2nd.

Everyone arrived dressed as characters from books, so the theme was set from the off.

Axminster 'betrayed' by loss of Seaton hospital beds

THE decision to close hospital beds in Seaton has provoked anger in Axminster.

Axminster fought hard, but unsuccessfully, to save its own hospital beds last year. Its beds were moved to Seaton, which was to have catered for Axe Valley as a whole.

The decision was made at a meeting of the Governing Body of the Northern, Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW Devon CCG) on Thursday (March 2nd).

Beds will also close in Honiton, and Axminster mayor, Cllr Paul Hayward, who attended the CCG meeting, said: "I would hope that the mayors of Honiton and Seaton join me in objecting to this decision.

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter anders@viewnews.co.uk

"Axminster has been betrayed. Honiton has been betrayed. So has Seaton, and so has each and everyone of us who pay taxes, and who paid taxes for decades, in the naïve hope that this would afford us the right to decent, dignified and local healthcare in our communities."

Dr James Vann, who had a leading role in the fight to save beds in Axminster said: "Sadly for the eastern part of East Devon, the CCG has failed to reflect the wishes and needs of patients."

"For me, there should be a vote of no confidence in the Eastern Locality of the CCG."

Ann Veit is a member of Axminster Hospital League of Friends, and was invited to the emergency meeting with MP Neil Parish last Friday organised by the Seaton friends group.

She said: "It is devastating news that we have had yet more promises broken."

Seaton and District Hospital League of Friends chairman Dr

Mark Welland said: "With regard to the late decision to switch from Seaton Hospital to Sidmouth Hospital for the 24-bedded unit, an appeal should be made to the CCG that the population of Axminster was neglected, having previously been given specific assurances at the time it lost its beds that Seaton Hospital would be for the whole Axe Valley community."

Anglican bishop visits Axminster

AXMINSTER was an integral part of Bishop Robert's three-day fact-finding mission in East Devon.

The three Anglican bishops in Devon are touring the county, listening to people's views, and sharing the vision for the Church of England.

The new vision and its priorities to pray, grow and serve the people of Devon with joy were set out last year and are being shared and discussed as they go round the county.

Bishop Robert Atwell also had another important appointment in Axminster, the licensing of The Reverend Clive Sedgewick as Team Rector of The Axe Valley Community Mission on Tuesday, February 28th.

During his visit to Axminster, Bishop Robert paid a visit to the library and met a selection of local business people and community members at a gathering in River Cottage Canteen.

Speaking prior to the Axminster visit, Bishop Robert said: "We live in very challenging times, not least financially challenging.

"Central to my vision for the church in Devon is serving its people with joy.

"There are many inspiring projects being run by Christians across the county, which I have visited as part of my year going round Devon.

"The work of volunteers – many of whom are inspired by their faith – is changing the lives of people for the better."

Former TIC building back on the market

THE former Honiton Tourist Information centre is back on the market, after the proposed tenant pulled out at the last minute.

Estate agents Humberts agreed to let the former TIC to a restaurant / café operator as soon as the property came on the market but the proposed tenant has now withdrawn their interest.

The detached single storey office/retail space is within the Lace Walk car park and is available at £6,000 per annum.

The retail unit also has a kitchen, office, toilet facilities and storage space. Outside there is parking for one vehicle within the public car park.

Stephen Richards, who heads up the commercial division for Humberts, said: "We received interest from a range of occupiers from antique shops through to hairdressers and eventually agreed a letting to a café.

"Now that the property is back on the market we expect to receive strong interest again from a range of occupiers due to the unusual location within the East Devon District Council's public car park, which gives any business great exposure as it is the main car park for the town centre."

■ DURING half-term more than 60 scouts from Devon and Dorset visited the National Marine Aquarium in Plymouth to spend the night with the sharks.

Honiton Scout Group took 59 of their members and were joined by four from Whimple Scout Group and two from the Lym Valley Scout Group.

Helen Turner, Honiton Scout Group leader, said: "We arrived at 6.30pm on the Friday night and settled in.

"We were then taken to the different zones in the aquarium to find certain species.

"Once we had found them

we had a talk about them from the aquarium staff.

"This was very interesting and we learnt a lot about all kinds of sea creatures.

"Once we'd had talks in all the different areas we went to the sharks' tank, which was brilliant.

"We could stand in the tunnel area and look up to the sharks through a glass ceiling.

"One shark swam over and positioned itself on the glass which the youngsters thought was really cool.

"The youngsters were really thrilled as they saw some really big sharks swimming around on the other side of the glass to them."

The Scouts then set up their sleeping bags and enjoyed a movie with ice cream and popcorn.

The Scouts were then up nice and early to enjoy breakfast at the aquarium restaurant.

Helen added: "We all learnt so many fascinating facts about all kinds of fish and sea creatures.

"It will be a night away that the youngsters will not forget in a hurry."

Stockland writer's Ethiopian-based novel

A FORMER Stockland resident's debut novel based on her experiences in Ethiopia is set to hit bookshelves by the end of March.

Alice Allan's first novel 'Open My Eyes, That I May See Marvellous Things' follows the story of an Ethiopian midwife, Mariam, who embarks on a project to protect an abandoned premature baby in Addis Ababa.

The book is inspired by Alice's own extraordinary experience working with midwives and new mothers in the Ethiopian capital championing skin-to-skin 'Kangaroo care' for premature babies.

Alice grew up in Stockland, where her parents still live today, and after working as an actress and a corporate trainer qualified as a lactation consultant after the birth of her children.

Alice trained hundreds of midwives in Ethiopia and has contributed articles on mothering and breastfeeding to a range of publications.

She currently lives in Tashkent, Uzbekistan with her diplomat husband, two daughters and a large Ethiopian street dog called Frank.

Alice still has a base in Stockland when she is back in the country.

The book will be published by Pinter & Martin and cost £9.99. The book was long listed for the MsLexia first novel award.

Memory café members enjoy African art workshop

MEMBERS of the Honiton Memory Café have enjoyed an African art workshop organised by the Thelma Hulbert Gallery.

Ottery-based artist Phil Creek led the workshop introducing those living with dementia and their carers to South African art.

They recreated art from the Ndebele tribe who are well known for their use of black lines and patterns.

Phil Creek said: "I am delighted by how many came to this workshop on my return visit to the memory café. The participants have all created wonderful pieces and I was pleased that the African art proved so popular with everyone.

"I have been to South Africa several times and brought the resources back with me. It made an interesting contrast to my last workshop studying local art."

Peter Hodges

Reporter | peter@viewnews.co.uk

Heather Penwarden, chairman of Honiton Memory Café, who joined in the workshop commented: "I have never seen the group so engrossed in an activity.

"Within minutes everyone had their head down. We liked the fact that everyone created their individual piece which then formed a final group piece too.

"It was one of the best activities we have ever had at the memory café and there was so much positive feedback from everyone afterwards."

Honiton Memory Café meets at the Methodist Chapel Hall on the first and third Thursday of every month from 2pm to 4pm.

Everyone is welcome.

Food festival back for fifth year

OTTERY St Mary's popular Food and Families Festival is back for a fifth year and promises to be as good as ever.

Now in its fifth year and an established event in the East Devon calendar, this year's festival – on June 3rd – is shaping up to be a cracker.

The festival continues to be run on a not-for-profit basis with the full support of local businesses, restaurants and cafes and is a great way to celebrate local producers, products and chefs.

The festival team are hoping to continue the success of the last five years, particularly the hugely popular pedestrianised 'market square' that was introduced at last year's event.

Festival director Ruud Jansen Venneboer said: "I can't quite believe we are planning for what will already be our fifth festival.

"And, as you are all used to, we'll make this one better again than the first four."

The volunteer organising team are busy piecing together the vibrant community event including chef demonstrations, children's activities, local street food vendors and traders.

To keep up to date with all the developments and what's new for 2017, check out the group's Facebook page www.facebook.com/OtteryStMaryFoodFamiliesFestival or the festivals website www.otteryfood.org

Women's marathon to raise funds for Free To Run

THE female-only Women Can Marathon, being held near Ottery St Mary later this year, has announced it will be raising funds for international charity Free To Run.

The organisation uses sports to empower women and girls from regions of conflict. They

Peter Hodges
Reporter | peter@viewnews.co.uk

focus on young women who have previously been unable to participate in sports programs, particularly outdoors, because of widespread discrimination and traditional beliefs about women's roles. The organisers of Women Can say it's a perfect match.

Free To Run has programs running in three different provinces in Afghanistan. One of its recent successes was to enable the first ever Afghan woman to run a full marathon in her own country. It was this remarkable story that caught the eye of Jo Earlam, administrator of the Women Can Marathon, which takes place in East Devon on May 28th.

It was organised to celebrate the 50th anniversary of campaigning American runner Kathrine Switzer, who became the first woman to officially complete the all-male Boston Marathon in 1967.

Jo said: "The main inspiration for our event was Kathrine Switzer's historic Boston run, which captured public imagination at the time and helped prove that women were capable of running 26.2 miles.

"Many thousands of women, of varying speed and ability, now run this distance without restriction and train freely to compete in events around the world.

"I feel very lucky to be one of them, but I am very aware that some women are not as fortunate and face exclusion, not just from competing in endurance events as Kathrine Switzer did back in 1967, but even from training or access to physical activity.

"It's very fitting that women at our event will be celebrating Kathrine Switzer's pioneering run and at the same time raising funds towards enabling other women to share and enjoy the same experience. In a nutshell, it's women who can, supporting women who can't."

The link-up has been welcomed by the charity and its president and founder Stephanie Case said: "We're delighted and honoured to be selected by the Women Can 2017 Marathon.

"Many of us take for granted the simple act of putting on our shoes to go outside for a run.

"However, for many of the young women in our programs, this is their first opportunity to experience moving freely outdoors.

"Such a simple act can truly change a life, and with the support of the Women Can 2017 Marathon, we'll be able to help support more women and girls who need it most."

The Women Can Marathon takes place from Tipton St John; the start and finish location is the community-owned village playing field, which was also founded in 1967.

As part of the legacy from the unique, one-off event, some of the proceeds will be invested locally, through the playing field association, and in partnership with Active Devon and LED Leisure in improved sports coaching for girls and women.

Women Can was recently announced as the first UK partner event for Kathrine Switzer's global running organisation, 261 Fearless.

More than 280 women have signed up as runners, Nordic walkers, or part of relay teams, with entrants coming from across the UK and even abroad.

Around 150 marshals and volunteers will be needed on the course, to run water stations and help at the start and finish.

Jo Earlam said: "The support has been fantastic. We've been overwhelmed with how this event has captured the imagination of women who're entering, people offering to help and businesses coming on board as sponsors."

Council wants to reduce food waste

DEVON County Council has joined forces with local and regional authorities across six other European countries on a new four-year research project, aimed at reducing the amount of food waste in the supply chain.

The project, called ECOWASTE4FOOD, is funded by the Interreg Europe programme and includes authorities from France, Spain, Italy, Greece, Finland and Poland.

The first two years of the project will involve research to discover and share best practice and innovations for reducing food waste in each of the partner countries.

Implementing some of these ideas as well as influencing future UK and European policy will be part of the second half of the project.

In Devon, the project will be led by a stakeholder group made up of the county's key food producers and distributors.

These will include organisations that redistribute surplus food to those in need, such as foodbanks.

The stakeholder group will shortly be decided on and any organisations and projects that are keen to be part of the conversation about how to reduce food waste and are interested in innovative solutions are invited to contact Devon County Council.

Councillor Roger Croad, Devon County Council's Cabinet Member for Environment said: "Devon has a strong tradition as a food growing and producing county.

"Reducing supply chain food waste will be both good for the environment as well as business productivity and also has the potential to redirect good nutrition to where it is most needed.

"If you or your organisation are interested in this significant research project, want to know more about how to reduce food waste and are interested in sharing and learning from best practice then the project team would be delighted to hear from you."

Annette Dentith, Devon County Council's Principal Waste Manager who is managing the project, said: "This is an exciting opportunity for Devon to make some real headway in addressing the issue of reducing food waste amongst businesses and households.

"Food waste is a global issue – across the world around one third of the food produced doesn't make it onto the plate which, with growing populations and increasing water and land scarcity will only become a more urgent problem to solve."

Beer sales raise more than £2,000 for RBL

OTTER Brewery has once again raised more than £2,000 for the Royal British Legion as part of their ongoing annual support for the Poppy Appeal.

The total was reached through sales of Poppy Otter – a winter beer specially created for the occasion by head brewer Keith Bennett and sold in West Country pubs throughout November and December.

Otter is now into its 27th year as a family run Devon brewery and are proud to support a number of local charities including the Royal British Legion, Hospiscare, Devon Air Ambulance and the Exeter Foundation, as well as many grassroots sports clubs.

Across bars in Devon, Dorset and Somerset, every time a pint of Poppy Otter was poured the brewery donated 5p to the charity. A cheque for £2,035 has now been presented to the RBL Devon county chairman Kevin Jeffery.

Voting for Ottery's annual citizen of the year opens

IT'S ONCE again time to present an Ottery resident with the 'Citizen of the Year' award.

Ottery St Mary Town Council will give the award at the Annual Parish Meeting on Wednesday, April 19th.

A spokesperson for the council said: "The person may be someone who has really done a lot in their community, worked to see through a particular project. It's really up to you to decide who you think merits this honour and why."

No town councillor or council staff member is eligible for the award; the person receiving the award will be the person with the most votes from the public.

Nominees must live in the parish, and all votes must be from individuals not groups.

Voting slips are available from the town council offices on Broad Street, or you may write a separate letter or email giving all the relevant information and submit it to the council office by April 10th.

Should there be a tie following the voting, the council reserves the right to make the final decision.

Peter Hodges

Reporter | peter@viewnews.co.uk

Otter Brewery director Patrick McCaig said: "A big thank you once again to all our drinkers who did their bit in helping the Poppy Appeal continue the great work they do."

"We've now proudly supported this charity for the last eight years and share a very close personal affinity with the values they hold dear. The fact that our beer can help raise money for them is a great feeling."

RBL Devon community fundraiser for Devon, Carol Arnold, said: "Otter already do a lot of fundraising for other charities and communities that they care about and we feel privileged to be one of them."

"We can do something really significant with this donation and look forward to developing our continued association with them in the future."

'Postbag' weighs heavy with Honiton town council row

I AM writing in response to Mrs Marjorie-Anne Howe's letter, which appeared in your last edition (February 28th).

I am one of the candidates Mrs Howe referred to who is standing for St Paul's ward and I would like to make it quite clear that Mr Taylor did not sponsor or co-sponsor me in anyway.

Councillor Taylor, a democratically elected member of Honiton Town Council, was good enough to nominate me as a candidate for the Honiton by-election purely as I live in the same ward as he.

How this has any bearing on my present or future opinions or actions is pure conjecture on Mrs Howe's part. With all due respect to Mr Taylor, I do not appreciate being accused, in print, of singing from the same hymn sheet as he regarding his thoughts on the Beehive or any other matter in fact and resent the implication that I am a part of a wider conspiracy circle with a hidden agenda!

I am a completely independent candidate with an independent mind who is running for Honiton Town Council for no other reason than to contribute my time and efforts to the community.

I therefore suggest that Mrs Howe gets her facts straight before publicly implying that legitimate, nominated candidates, such as myself, do not have the ability or morality to act or think in their own right as they see fit!

Letters may be edited. The views expressed in letters are those of the author and not necessarily of this newspaper.

IN response to last week's letter by Mrs Howe; I must protest and state I was not sponsored by Mr Taylor – he proposed me but did not sponsor me.

I was asked to consider joining the council because of my active role at the Honiton 55 day-care centre for our elderly folk, my work with Age UK teaching basic IT skills and my involvement and work delivering the fare/share food cloud charity donations.

It was felt by several individuals I had something to offer, Mr Taylor being one.

Seemingly associating candidates to the earlier court proceedings mentioned in the letter in my view is unwarranted, unfair and could be viewed as attempting to influence the forthcoming town council elections.

by email

THE voters of Honiton need to be aware that Councillor John Taylor, who took the council to a judicial review, and substantially lost the case, will still cost Honiton Town Council a large sum in legal fees.

The background to this sorry story was libellous comments Cllr Taylor published about Honiton's Town Clerk in January 2015.

He was reported to East Devon's Standards Officer and was asked to apologise but he refused. He was found to be in breach of the code of conduct for councillors and was told to undertake training.

Honiton Town Council initially imposed further sanctions against Cllr Taylor but then withdrew these after about eight weeks following legal advice.

Even though Honiton Council's sanctions had been withdrawn, he still disputed the judgement made against him by East Devon and he instigated a costly judicial review against Honiton Town Council even though it was EDDC sanctions and authority he was disputing.

The council's costs for the review have been awarded against Cllr Taylor but will surely have to be paid up front by the council and then re-

THIS week has seen council tax rises by the county and district councils, claimed necessary to improve local services due to reduction in central government funding.

Will Honiton Town Council tax also rise? However, not to improve services but to cover legal costs.

I ask all council tax payers in Honiton to go to the Honiton Town Council website and choose the link to "Judicial Review costs judgement".

Councillor Taylor took legal actions against Honiton Town Council, the judge awarded costs up to March 19th 2016 to the councillor and costs after this date to Honiton Town council.

However, it will be council tax payers in Honiton who will end up footing the bill.

Recently-elected Councillor Zarczynski issued leaflets about wanting Honiton Town council to increase funding to local services like the Youth centre and 55 club, so I find it galling that a councillor, who does not follow council code of behaviour, takes a legal action against Honiton Town Council which may result in costs of multiples of thousands of pounds.

Will the consequences of Cllr Taylor's actions be an increase in every Honiton town council tax payers' bill and reduction in funding to our local services? If so, thanks a lot, Cllr Taylor.

I am also concerned in that I understand Cllr Taylor (who cannot abide by the councillors' code of conduct) has acted as sponsor for three of the four candidates in the upcoming council elections!

Let the voters decide,

STEPHEN KOLEK,
Honiton

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cllr Taylor has proposed – not sponsored – three candidates in the upcoming election. See Mr Darrant's and Mr Jones's responses on this page claimed from him. Will Cllr Taylor pay the full fee and will he pay immediately, or will he pay only part and drag out the payment over several years?

Don't forget Cllr Taylor will also have to pay his own legal fees which will surely be at least as much as the council's.

Who knows what will be the final cost to the town?

All this for a case that the judge said should never have been brought. Mr Justice Edis in his report (see Town Council website) said that Cllr Taylor "was seeking some reason to continue with his proceedings when there was no real purpose in doing so."

He also said, "Again, this posture speaks of a litigant wanting to find something to argue about, rather than trying to resolve a genuine grievance."

With regard to Cllr Taylor's accusations about the clerk the judge says: "He accused her of criminal conduct when there was not the slightest justification for doing so."

Cllr Taylor's actions and refusal to acknowledge wrong doing have cost the town council hours of work and thousands of pounds in legal fees.

Yet, despite all this, Cllr Taylor can still sit on the council. He can still sit in the same room as the town clerk whose reputation he smeared and to whom he has not apologised. He cannot be dismissed save by losing an election. Apparently, the only sanction that can be brought against him is publicity, hence this letter.

A further insult to the electors is that Cllr Taylor is sponsoring three of the candidates in the coming council election. Because, despite his shocking behaviour, that has been condemned by East Devon District Council and a High Court judge, Cllr Taylor is supported by a faction in the council and he is obviously looking to increase that support.

I call on Cllr Taylor to resign from the council and call on voters of Honiton to write to the mayor (Council Office, The Beehive, Dowell St, Honiton) to protest about his behaviour.

JOHN BURGESS,
Honiton

CHARD SCHOOL OPEN MORNING

Situated in Grade 2* listed buildings in the heart of a bustling market town, Chard School has been opening its doors to children from the surrounding area since 1671. Over the past 50 years the school has transformed itself from a boys-only secondary school to a family-orientated prep school, taking both boys and girls through from Reception to Year 6. Small classes and specialist teachers ensure the education programme the school delivers is highly personal, and while the school unashamedly places a focus on the three R's, it also encourages all pupils to take part in the flourishing programme of extra-curricular activities.

After Year 6 Pupils move on to a range of local schools, both state and independent, and, most recently, our leavers have been awarded scholarships for academic, musical, sporting and all-round achievement. Our website gives a very good insight into what we do, although it is no substitute for visiting us and seeing the school at work!

Chard School will be holding an Open Morning on Saturday 18th March 2017. At our Open Mornings we aim to give you a real feel of what life is like at Chard; the breadth of the curriculum, our extensive facilities, our passionate and enthusiastic teaching staff and above all our happy and thriving children. Why not come along and take a tour of our wonderful school! For more information, please contact the School Secretary on 01460 63234 or office@chardschool.co.uk

50 years in newspapers

philip@viewnews.co.uk

The day I took out City's Nicky Jennings

I'VE always believed that a good local newspaper has to be part of the community, supporting good causes and providing essential publicity for the dozens of events that can genuinely make a difference for those who have been dealt a bad hand in life.

The newspapers I have edited or managed over the years have never walked away from taking on the difficult stories, putting our heads above the parapet in dealing with officialdom and reporting arrogance of those in authority.

There may have been times when we've overstepped the mark, but we've never shied away from making sure our readers have their say.

This was a lesson I learnt when I worked for Jimmy Hall at the Sidmouth Herald, about whom I wrote in my last column.

Jimmy, an ex-Fleet Streeter, wrote a brilliantly fearless column in the Herald called 'Frank Burgess'.

It didn't make him popular but it was compulsive reading when the Herald sold more copies in Sidmouth than there were houses.

I enjoyed my nine years in Sidmouth immensely and have retained a fondness for the town ever since.

I had a young but enthusiastic young editorial team, two of whom went on to great things in the world of newspapers.

Mark Hollands joined me as a 16-year-old cub reporter and ended up being one of the most influential voices in the press in Australia and is now a successful author.

He worked alongside Geoff Baker, a brilliant writer who went on to find fame in Fleet Street and held down one of the top jobs in public relations, looking after the PR for Beatle Paul McCartney for 15 years.

Geoff is back in living in Lyme Regis these days and works on a freelance basis for the newspapers I manage in London.

He's lost none of his desire for a great scoop and regards Jimmy Hall as one of the greatest influences of his working life.

Geoff and I met up with

Mark on a recent visit to the UK to catch up with his family and we enjoyed a meal at the Blue Ball in Sidford, one of our old haunts.

It's more than 30 years since we worked together but Mark still retains those boyish looks, so evident in the photo above when we played in a charity football match we helped to organise at Sidmouth Town FC.

This event was a classic example of how a local newspaper can play a crucial role in doing a bit of good in the community.

We joined forces with Sidmouth and Ottery St Mary football clubs to put on a charity game for a young father, Chris Salter, an Ottery player who died tragically young.

Westward TV gave their full support with anchorman Ken MacLeod and presenter Alison Holloway, later to become one of Jim Davidson's wives, making an appearance.

Alison kicked off the main game in the tightest pair of shorts I can remember seeing.

A crowd of more than 1,000 turned up for match and we raised a considerable amount of money.

■ Westward TV's Ken MacLeod turning on the charm at the Chris Salter memorial match in the Sidmouth Town clubhouse

I managed to get on for part of the game and, according to Mark who messaged me on Facebook, I took out Exeter City player Nicky Jennings waist high. Too slow to catch him, no doubt.

The fundraising continued in the clubhouse afterwards, with Ken MacLeod leading the proceedings, after which we all "got smashed", according to Mark.

No wonder my recollections of the day are a bit fuzzy so apologies if there are any inaccuracies in the above.

I have been involved in many such events down the years, always with great support from my staff.

In recent times Pulman's View From raised £10,000 for the Rotary Waterbox charity and last year we fronted a campaign to ensure the Red Arrows appeared in Lyme Regis, retaining a 40-year link with the resort, by raising their fee of around £12,000 - something we hope to do again this year.

PEARL'S A STINGER

PEARL'S A STINGER 30 YEARS OF THE GRIZZLY

RUNNERS from all over the country – from Benfleet, Bedford and Bracknell; to Winchester, Wilmslow and Wells – will converge on Seaton this weekend for the 30th running of the Grizzly.

They will be joined by visitors from France, Germany, Cyprus, Holland and the USA as more than 2000 runners set out from Seaton seafront to tackle the challenging and notorious 20 mile multi-terrain run on Sunday (12 March).

To mark its 30th year, the event, organised by Axe Valley Runners, has been named Pearl's a Stinger. As usual there is a shorter Cub option available. Both races cover some of the most spectacular and beautiful scenery in the country but also some of the most challenging with undulating pebble beaches, muddy hills, rocky cliffs and a couple of bogs to navigate.

Starting on Seaton Esplanade at 10.30am the runners of both races head immediately through the "Waves" at Fisherman's Gap onto the beach and towards Haven Cliff. After passing through Axe Yacht Club they return along The Esplanade and out on Beer Road to Seaton Hole before facing the first of many steep hills as they run into Beer. From there the route becomes largely off road as it meanders through Beer Head Caravan Park and on to Branscombe. The route splits at Branscombe Mouth with the cub runners starting their return with the tough pebble beach and the even tougher "Stairway to Heaven" ascent back up to Under Hooken. Meanwhile the Grizzly runners continue along the river into the village and up into the hills and woodland beyond. After some of the toughest running of the course the runners finally descend Hole Hill passing through (but not entering!) the Fountain Head before heading to Branscombe Mouth and returning to Seaton following the same route as the Cub runners – only now it will be even muddier!

Throughout the route some 500 marshals guide the runners and provide much needed water and snacks. Local musicians entertain the runners at various points on the course. A Grizzly memorial will be constructed on Branscombe beach providing an opportunity for runners to tie a ribbon, leave a memory or just share a moment of reflection as they pass.

This year's Run Director, Tony Smith said, "We are looking forward to welcoming the runners and their families to beautiful East Devon this weekend. The Grizzly relies on amazing support from the many local community groups, the council, local businesses and individuals who help us and it could not be organised without their help. I would also like to thank the landowners who kindly allow the race to go across their land as well as the main race sponsor, East Devon Sports Therapy. many more in the years to come."

As usual this year's Grizzly was well over-subscribed and having recently been named in the book, "50 Races To Run Before You Die" it is likely the race will remain as popular as ever.

All runners who complete the course receive a "Grizzly Survivor" T shirt at the finish with prizes, donated by Lyme Bay Winery, going to the first 3 male and female finishers of both the Grizzly and Cub. To commemorate its 30th anniversary a race video is being produced which will be available for purchase.

On Saturday (11th March) there is an opportunity for junior runners to tackle shorter runs with a 4k and a 2k fun-run available along the seafront.

During the weekend The Gateway (former Town Hall) in Seaton will be the Headquarters for the Grizzly with merchandise on sale, refreshments and a baggage store for runners on the Sunday. The ever popular Griz-quiz will also be hosted at The Gateway starting at 7.30pm on Saturday evening. Other venues including Pebbles and Seaton Jurassic are providing special pre and post run Grizzly menus as the Grizzly weekend continues to be a very special community event for the town. It is also a terrific fundraiser for local charities with more than £335,000 of race proceeds having been donated during the past 29 years.

PEARL'S A STINGER FOR SURVIVORS EVERYWHERE

THE DUNGBEETLE'S GRIZZLY POEM FOR 2017

Thirty years a-running across your country-scape of dreams
thirty years confronting exhaustion and despair of living, and re-living, your roller-coaster ride
of letting go of inhibitions and selfish, self-survival schemes.
The Grizzly is your ecstasy, a route to reparation and repair, an inner knowing that - Pearl is just a brutal stinger, however hard you tried.

Yes, "Pearl is just a Stinger", the silent Muse replied,
Yes, "Pearl is just a Stinger", a joy to consolidate your pride:
your emblem of endurance : "Pearl is just a Stinger", who can always match you, stride for Grizzly stride.

(Your wonder is that "Pearl is just a Stinger", not to be denied, your insight is that "Pearl is just a Stinger", who never leaves your side).

But you are not the one who's ever down or stung
instead a distant echo in a blazing, empty space
as you climb the endless ladder, rung by slippery rung, as you approach the realm of peacefulness and holy, heartfelt grace and know that you have always given all that can be traced.
For "Pearl is just a Stinger" who wanders here and there who recognises worthiness and shelter from all worldly glare, whose gratitude is boundless for survivors everywhere.

(Every swamp, bog and muddy track contains a pearl somewhere.
That is why oysters are such important symbols for mankind).

Ever rocking and rolling across the country-scape of dreams,
The Celestial Dungbeetle, ancient and unlimited

EAST DEVON SPORTS THERAPY & GENERAL INJURY CLINIC

FROM our more traditional approach of sports massage and manipulations to some of the most advanced treatments available, including the Alter-G Anti-Gravity Treadmill, PBM laser system and plantar pressure computer gait analysis.

We are the only clinic within a 100 mile radius providing instant pain relief and a speedy recovery, using the same PBM laser system as olympic and top international sports teams and the only private clinic in the South West with a state of the art anti-gravity rehabilitation system. Both used for acute and chronic pain, including post operation recovery, osteo and rheumatoid arthritis, sports injuries, fractures and general body pains.

Not only do we deal with sports injuries but also disease and general well being. We see a lot of stroke related cases, parkinsons and other neurological disorders. The anti-gravity treadmill is fantastic at helping patients improve their coordination and muscle strength. With the addition of PBM laser, a lot of arthritic joints benefit with great relief and increased movement.

DIAGNOSIS • TREATMENT • REHABILITATION • PREVENTION

Laser Therapy

PBM (Photobiomodulation) is the use of laser light over injury and pain. Light, within certain parameters, can regenerate tissue, reduce inflammation and reduce pain. It does this by increasing cellular energy, ATP proteins and reducing oxidative stress. These effects have been tested in over 400 clinical trials (RCT's) and thousands of laboratory studies which are published in many leading journals including The Lancet and BMJ.

Our system stands out from the rest, being the only one of its kind within 100 mile radius. It is the only PBM laser system with FDA, CE, TGA, Health Canada and NATO clearance for proven beneficial effects on tissue repair and pain reduction.

Anti-Gravity Treadmill

We are the only private clinic in the South West and one of only fifteen private clinics in the UK to offer this therapy to the public.

Engineered by NASA, the Anti-Gravity Treadmill 'unweights' the user by as much as 80% in precise 1% increments allowing them to move at a reduced bodyweight. This accurate, safe and comfortable partial weight-bearing therapy promotes normal gait patterns, unlike hydrotherapy, whilst significantly minimising the impact on joints and muscles to aid a smooth recovery. The system provides a safe and pain-free environment for use in physical therapy sessions at any stage of the rehabilitation process.

Good luck to all Grizzly runners!

We will be at the start/finish line as usual offering pre and post run massages, all proceeds to local charity.

Gait Analysis

Our system offers analysis of walking and or running over the RS footscan mat. With over 4000 sensors embedded into it we gain in depth analysis of your foot positions, pressure and force distributed during the motion, in both 2D and 3D. The advanced software allows automatic division of the foot into specific regions. This allows force and pressure distribution within these areas to be analysed and associated with certain foot mechanics and functions which may affect the kinetic chain of your gait.

Custom 3D Printed Orthotics

Offering the world's first dynamic 3D printed orthotics as the UK's opening distributor. They are customised to support the every move of an individual from our pressure plate analysis.

It is this 3D print system that gave Paula Radcliffe a come back in 2015 "Without the support of these orthotics, I would have been incapable of recovering this quickly after my operations, this would have probably been the end of my career." 'Paula Radcliffe 2015'

Seared Chilli Pepper Beef with Paprika Potatoes

Recipe courtesy of www.nationalbutchersweek.com
Visit the Great British Beef website for more recipes

Ingredients

- 300g/10½oz lean rump or thick sirloin steaks
- 300g/10½oz small new potatoes, halved
- Large pinch paprika powder
- 30ml/2tbsp extra virgin olive oil
- Salt and freshly milled black pepper
- 2 garlic cloves, peeled and roughly chopped
- 1 small red onion, peeled and thinly sliced
- 2.5ml/½tsp dried chilli flakes
- 100ml/3½floz dry red wine

Serves: 2

Preparation time: 10 minutes

Cooking time: (2cm/¾in thick steak):

Rare: 2½ minutes on each side,

Medium: 4 minutes on each side, Well done: 6 minutes on each side

Cooking time for vegetables: Under 30 minutes

Method

1. Preheat the oven to Gas mark 7, 220°C, 425°F.
2. Place the potatoes in a non-stick roasting tin. Add the paprika and half the oil, toss gently, season and roast for 25 minutes. 15 minutes before the end of the cooking time remove the tin, add the garlic and onions, toss gently and return to the oven.
3. Place the steaks on a chopping board, season on both sides and dust with the chilli flakes. Heat the remaining oil in a heavy based frying or griddle pan and cook the steaks according to your preference. Remove the steak and keep warm.
4. In the same pan add the wine and simmer for 2-3 minutes or until reduced by half, scraping the base of the pan with a wooden spoon to release any sediment. Add any meat juices from the steak plate to the pan.
5. Divide the potato mixture between two serving plates. Slice the steak on the diagonal and arrange on top of the potatoes. Drizzle over the red wine sauce and serve immediately with a red chicory salad.

SPOTLIGHT ON Chard

SHOP LOCAL, SHOP CHARD

A BRIEF HISTORY OF SOUTH SOMERSET'S LITTLE MARKET TOWN:

CHARD is a historic market town nestled within the glorious countryside of South Somerset, close to the Devon and Dorset borders.

Chard is the second largest town in South Somerset with a population of approximately 14,000. At 121 metres (397ft) above sea level it is both the southernmost and highest located town in Somerset.

People have been living in the Chard area since prehistoric times and villas nearby at Tatworth and Wadeford show that Romans lived here too, but the first written mention of the town was in 1065 just prior to the Norman invasion. A little over twenty years later the Doomsday Book recorded details of the settlement which was then a large, though not rich, manor.

In the middle of the 13th century the lord of the manor, the Bishop of Wells, drew up a charter founding a new borough of Chard. The site of the original village, now known as Old Town, was near St Mary's Church but the new borough was created a little distance away on what is now the A30.

Like many towns in England Chard became closely involved in the wool trade. The rise of the woollen trade in the north of England badly affected the industry in Chard but in 1819 the manufacture of lace arrived. Soon there were mills in and around Chard producing bobbin lace net which was exported worldwide.

The industry continued throughout the rest of the 19th century and into the middle of the 20th century when the last mill in the town finally closed although net is still made in one of the nearby villages. A thriving engineering industry grew up alongside the lace mills and several of the firms which developed from this are still operating in Chard today.

You can discover more about our town's history in Chard Museum located in Godworthy House, High Street, Chard or by visiting the Tourist Information Centre at The Guildhall.

Chard is easily accessible, situated on the main London -Exeter route, so why not stop off at one of the Cafes, Pubs or Restaurants, call in and visit the Antiques, Vintage, Collectables & Craft Market or relax by Chard Reservoir – just a few of the things Chard has to offer.

Musbury & Hawkchurch Primary Schools

18 MONTHS on Hawkchurch C of E and Musbury Primary schools are going from strength to strength with the new team lead by Jayne Vanstone Head of Teaching and Learning since September 2015.

Hawkchurch has received a 'good' Ofsted in 2016 and Musbury look forward to their next inspection with all the changes that have taken place.

Musbury Primary is adjacent to the church and set in two and a half acres of land. We have a family atmosphere and a community of learning and enjoyment. We currently have 30 children and each is cared for, valued, inspired and nurtured to achieve success through enhancing their intellectual curiosity, academic achievement, physical development, imagination, creativity and spirituality. We pride ourselves in improving the experience of school for children in our care and with small classes can give them more individual learning experiences. We work very closely with the Musbury Moles pre-school on our site. We also have plenty of space for outdoor learning. Please do contact us, and come and have a look around. Tel 01297 552687.

Hawkchurch C of E Primary is a small school of 36 children which cares greatly for all of our children and community. Everybody connected with Hawkchurch School believes that our small size is a huge advantage. It enables us to ensure that our children are given the best possible start to school life. Our curriculum is wide and varied with all of our children being given many different opportunities to enhance their learning within an environment that is welcoming, safe and secure. We sit in beautiful countryside surroundings with plenty of land, which lends itself to lots of outdoor learning. We have a nursery on site and we take from 2 years of age. We have places in all year groups.

Tick Tock Day Nursery & Pre-School

THIS September Tick Tocks will celebrate their 15th year Anniversary at the same time as opening their brand new built nursery.

Proprietors Alison Coleman and Lynn Knight are excited for the new opportunities we will be able to offer the children. A brand new Pre-School offering the children all area's of learning as continuous provision with an all weather outdoor play area.

The babies and toddlers will also have their own dedicated play space to explore using their senses to learn and develop. They too will have their own all weather outdoor play area.

Alison and Lynn are confident the transition to the new building will be a success taking their trusted experienced team of staff with them. Our Senior Supervisor, Sarah Perryment, having been with us for 15 Years will lead our team who have also been with us for many years. Our long standing dedicated staff are the heart of the nursery, giving a high level of care to the children.

Alongside the Nursery will be our Play Cafe, this will be open to the public. It will be a place where family and friends can meet, enjoy the high quality food and drink that will be available, whilst the children have fun and explore. The play Cafe will also offer group sessions such as toddler groups, music sessions and Birthday parties.

Follow us on Facebook for development updates and Job Opportunities.

St John's School Sidmouth

NEW LOWER FEES FOR LOCAL PUPILS

St John's is primarily a local school with the majority of pupils coming from the local area.

As a result, from September 2017, St John's is delighted to be able to introduce a local fee rate for all pupils living within 15 miles of school.

St John's offers pastoral excellence, a harmonious environment with great facilities and bespoke teaching with a strong focus on each individual pupil in our care.

To find out about our new Local Fee rate, please contact Jo Mason on 01395 513984 or email contact.stjohns@iesmail.com

stjohnsschool

ST JOHN'S School in Sidmouth is celebrating the expansion of the School with the introduction of a new fee rate aimed at local pupils. St John's believes the school's recent increase in numbers is down to a number of factors.

With the introduction of swimming to the timetable and also the ability to use the extensive main school facilities, St John's Nursery is thriving and will be introducing a waiting list system for future terms.

In the Junior School, pupils follow the extremely popular International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme – an innovative inquiry based programme which helps pupils understand how to learn.

In the Senior School, St John's GCSE/IGCSE results continue to be highly impressive - particularly given the fact that the school is non-selective. (95% 5+ A*-C and 40% A*/A in mathematics in 2016)

Finally, St John's offers its pupils some fantastic opportunities to make the most of the school's global connections with pupils and teachers travelling to St John's sister schools in Florida, Spain, Ecuador, South Africa, Hungary and Slovenia in 2016 alone.

With the opening of the new indoor/outdoor swimming pool and further significant investment in the pipeline, St John's is looking forward to welcoming more and more local pupils through its doors.

Little Ones Nursery

TAKE a peep inside our nursery and what will you see? A baby snuggled up with one of our team having a story.... another exploring the paint with hands... and toes! Our older children have free access to our undercover outside area so there will be a couple of toddlers learning maths through shape and pattern as they explore our leaves and twigs exploration tray... a member of staff helping another child to recognise letters in their name whilst playing in the sand pit... whilst another couple of pre school children are in the home corner 'reading' from a recipe book using the scales to bake a cake with dried pasta. Learning through play and exploration is what we believe in... so this is what we do! We set up 'invitations to play' for our children and allow them to discover this way of learning enables the children to learn at a pace which is right for them and learning through what interests them is so much more fun!

Spaces now available for all ages... Call us to find out more: 01404 548181 or visit: www.littleonesnursery.co.uk.

Sunny Days Nursery

Working parents of three to four-year-olds in England will soon be eligible for 30 hours of free childcare - rather than the current 15 hours. The childcare is only available at Ofsted registered nurseries, pre schools and childminders. The new scheme will be available from September 2017 and your child must have turned 3 before the start of the academic term.

The 30 hours of free childcare can be used term times for 38 weeks or parents can spread the free childcare out over 51 weeks but they would only get 21.5 hours per week.

The Government has been rolling out a pilot scheme in 8 English areas: Wigan, Staffordshire, Swindon, Portsmouth, Northumberland, York, Newham and Hertfordshire. The scheme is scheduled to go nationwide later this year.

There has been 75% take up by eligible parents within the trial areas. Choice of hours and days maybe limited so it will be wise to start looking for suitable providers now. It is possible to split your childcare between two providers to access the 30 hours.

Not everyone is eligible but everyone will still receive the 15 hours free childcare that is currently available for 3 and 4 year olds. For more information please visit www.childcare-support.tax.service.gov.uk.

The Eligibility rules for the 30 hours free childcare are:

- Your child will be aged 3 or 4 when the scheme starts in your area.
- Both parents must be working - or the sole parent is working in a lone parent family.
- Each parent earns, on average, a weekly minimum equivalent to 16 hours at National Minimum Wage or National Living Wage.
- Each parent must have an annual income of less than £100,000.
- You live in England.

For a handy guide on whether or not you are eligible check out www.madeformums.com and follow the links to '30 hours of free childcare'.

Crewkerne's Clarinet Spectacular Concert

FOLLOWING last year's popular Sax Spectacular Concert, international concert clarinetist and saxophonist David White returns to St Bartholomew's Church, Crewkerne on 12 March at 3pm to perform a Clarinet Spectacular programme.

David White studied at the Royal Academy of Music and won the Geoffrey Hawkes Prize for clarinet.

He has performed as a featured soloist on the last three albums of John Barry and was the woodwind soloist for the feature film "The Understudy" composed by Carl Davis.

He performs with major symphony orchestras in Britain and abroad.

His programme on 12 March will include specially arranged pieces for different clarinets including

"The Baby Elephant Walk" by Henny Mancini, "The Elephant" from Saint-Saëns's Carnival of the Animals and Mozart's Clarinet Quintet.

David will be accompanied on piano by Jonathan Delbridge. Jonathan runs a busy piano teaching business based in Crewkerne called JD Music Services but is also well-known as a freelance soloist and accompanist. He has performed at venues throughout the UK including the Royal Albert Hall, York Minster and Norwich Cathedral.

Tickets are £8 for this concert and are expected to sell quickly following the popular Sax Spectacular concert last year. Tickets can be booked on 01460 271767 or from the Crewkerne Town Hall. There is free admission for those aged 18 and under and any remaining tickets will be available on the door at £10.

Feel free to use the attached photograph: David White performing a Sax Spectacular concert in Crewkerne 2016.

For further information or interview contact: Jonathan Delbridge info@jdmusicservices.co.uk 01460 271799, 07719 187508.

Oh, What a Night - another full house at Axminster Guildhall!

THE NEW Jersey Boys have again sold out their highly successful tribute to Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons on Friday night at the Guildhall, Axminster.

This popular show continues to play to capacity audiences across the country and is already booking at venues for next year. Whilst their next date, at the McMillan Theatre, Bridgwater, is fully booked, tickets are available for The Exchange, Sturminster Newton on the 29th April. The show is returning to the Palace Theatre, Paignton on Mondays in August and to the Manor Pavilion Theatre, Sidmouth on October 20th, and November 11th.

An Odyssey of Greek Stuff!

BASED – very loosely! – on the epic poem by Homer and from the makers of 'Great Expectations' and 'Dracula' comes a tale more exciting than excitement itself: The ODYSSEY! It's Greek stuff... all the good bits with the boring stuff removed.

If ever a show was designed for our lovely rural venues, this is it; a compact piece of theatre magic. David Mynne's skill with just a few simple props, a rubber face and clear and concise storytelling will fill the hall with drama and delight!

David Mynne is a founder member of Cornwall's legendary Kneehigh Theatre.

This year he's going to hell and back in the company of Heroes, Gods and Monsters. A host of exciting (and daft) characters – including a one-eyed Cyclops, a six-headed monster and the terrifying Sea God Poseidon – will conjure up a mighty storm and keep you on the edge of your seat. Suitable for adults and older children.

Rabbit Theatre present 'The Odyssey (Greek Stuff!)' at The Beehive, on Saturday, March 18th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £9 or £5, or £26 for a family ticket. For more details or tickets call 01404 384050 or visit www.beehivehoniton.co.uk

Roberts and Lakeman return to The Beehive

KATHRYN ROBERTS and Sean Lakeman return to the Beehive on Saturday, March 25th at 8pm, supported by Kitty Mcfarlane. The couple have long established themselves as one of the UK folk scene's most rewardingly enduring partnerships.

Twice recent winners of the BBC Radio 2 Folk Award for Best Duo – 2016 & 2013 – the couple's intimacy and strength of passion on stage have won them many fans and an enviable reputation as 'Songwriters par excellence' (fRoots), whose greatly varied original songs cover such subjects as wicked mermaids, Norwegian legends, and a lonely whale.

Building upward from their last two highly praised albums 'Tomorrow Will Follow Today' and 'Hidden People', fans of folk and acoustic music can only wonder where this leading couple will choose to turn next.

With a story that includes over 20 years of music making with the likes of Seth Lakeman, Cara Dillon, Levellers, Kate Rusby and Show of Hands, Kathryn Roberts and Sean Lakeman have consolidated themselves as pillars of modern British folk.

Mainstream Magic

ILMINSTER ARTS Centre is keeping its 'jazz miles' down at its concert on Friday, March 10th, which features a group of local jazz musicians, led by Tony Roberts and featuring Matt Carter, Richard Llewellyn, Ben Taylor and Gary Evans. They will be presenting an evening of mainstream jazz at its enjoyable and accessible best, playing tunes from the American song book, Bossa Novas/Latin and 1950/60's 'Blue Note'.

Tony Roberts has had a long and illustrious career in jazz and this concert at Ilminster Arts Centre is a particularly special one as it marks his 80th birthday! Having started his musical career as an army bandsman, Tony spent the '60s performing with the likes of John Dankworth, Humphrey Lyttleton, Stan Tracey, Mike Gibbs, Kenny Wheeler, Graham Collier and many more, and as an in-demand recording artist and session player provided the saxophone and clarinet to the music of TV's Bergerac. Having retired to a smallholding in Devon in 1971, he simultaneously recorded several albums with folk guitarist John Renbourn before returning to music full time in the early 80s until semi-retiring to Jurassic coast in 1992, where he continues to practice the art of Jazz!

Matt Carter is gifted young pianist who has already a seasoned performer with a wide repertoire, varying from musical theatre to soul, jazz, and pop. He has performed with artists such as Joss Stone, Mica Paris, Beverley Knight and Angelo Starni but his favourite music genre is jazz and he has performed with jazz legends including Alan Barnes, Brendon Allen and Greg Abate. He performed with many local bands and also has also his own jazz trio.

The Tony Roberts Quintet play

at Ilminster Arts Centre on Friday, March 10th at 8pm. Tickets are £14, and a pre-show supper is available for £14 at 7pm but must be pre-booked. For more details or to book visit www.themetinghouse.org.uk, or call 01460 54973.

Textile Fair at Ilminster Arts Centre

ILMINSTER ART Centre's popular specialist Vintage Textile fair returns this month for its spring edition. The fair, which is curated by "Talent for Textiles", a group of vintage textile dealers, takes place on Wednesday, March 22nd.

Exhibits will include an enticing selection of antique and classic textiles, including British, European lace and linens, pretty decorative touches for the home, vintage buttons and haberdashery, and much more.

The fair will appeal to collectors, homemakers, and anyone who loves beautiful, distinctive fabrics with character and history.

Co-organiser Caroline Bushell says "We return to the Meeting House Arts Centre for our Spring fair bringing with us our best and most interesting textiles. The Arts Centre is a favourite venue for us, as its intimate scale makes it ideal for browsing and buying. We've forged many friendships there over the years!"

Stallholders are approachable and knowledgeable, and are always delighted to share their expertise and passion for textiles. Come along and enjoy the fun of the fair and don't forget the Gallery Café will be open too, serving tea, coffee and delicious light lunches.

Folk, films and Sweet Honi at The Beehive

with Wendy Van Der Plank

MARCH is whizzing by, we've already had two great shows with La La Land a sell out, and the fab Jay Rayner serving up a great audio visual treat with his 10 Food Commandments.

Next up is a brand new initiative, on Tuesday, March 7th Emma Kennedy and Gill Amos are welcoming anyone who wishes to come along to the Beehive café from 7-9pm for the first in a series of 'Death Cafés'. At a Death Café people meet in a safe, welcoming space to have a cuppa and cake whilst talking about mortality and all that goes with it. The aim is to overcome the taboo of talking about death, to share experience and listen to others. It's not morbid and Death Cafés can be very life affirming, sometimes there is sadness but they are supportive and even enjoyable! There is no agenda, anyone trying to lead discussions to any conclusion or sell anything. It is a respectful, supportive and confidential space and a discussion group rather than a grief support or counselling session. More information can be found at www.deathcafe.com

Sue Kings' lovely, friendly folk night is in the bar on Wednesday, March 8th and there are some great local singers appearing, this is free and anyone is welcome to come and listen or to play.

We are expecting a rip roaring evening with 'Jethro' on Friday, which is sold out, then on Saturday, March 11th at 7.30pm 'Sweet Honi' choir and the brilliant brass quintet, 'Brass Warriors' are collaborating to produce an amazing selection of songs, medleys and unusual arrangements for Andrew Hague's last concert as the choir's MD and conductor. Tickets are going very quickly so I'd advise you to book.

The incredibly talented Dave Myne (founder member of Kneehigh theatre co.) is bringing his one man show, The Odyssey (Greek Stuff), without the boring bits, to the Beehive on Saturday 18th at 7.30pm. Do NOT miss this! It is extremely funny, fabulous theatre and if you only see one show this year, this should be it!

Kathryn Roberts and Sean Lake-man return to the Beehive on Saturday, March 25th at 8pm supported by Kitty Mcfarlane. They were so fab last time they came we had to get them back! Twice recent winners of the BBC Radio 2 Folk Award for Best Duo – 2016 & 2013 – the couple's intimacy and strength of passion on stage have won them many fans and an enviable reputation as 'Songwriters par excellence' (fRoots), whose greatly varied original songs cover such subjects as wicked mermaids, Norwegian legends, and a lonely whale.

Kitty also launched her touring career from the Beehive when we invited her to support Kathryn & Sean in 2015, she has been gigging, singing and song writing ever since so we are delighted that she is coming back.

On Thursday, March 30th at 7.15pm Puccini's 'Madama Butterfly' will be streamed live from the Royal Opera House, it is one of the most popular of all operas, with ravishing music and a heart-breaking story of a loving geisha deserted by a callous American husband. Much loved soprano Ermonela Jaho sings the title role for the first time at Covent Garden, in Moshe Leiser and Patrice Caquier's stunningly beautiful production. Sung in Italian with English subtitles.

Other screenings at The Beehive cinema include 'Lion' on Friday, March 17th at 7.30pm starring Dev Patel and Nicole Kidman, which is selling quickly. On Friday 24th 'Jackie' is a powerful depiction of the days immediately following the assassination of John F. Kennedy, seen through the eyes of his widow, flawlessly portrayed by Natalie Portman.

Personally I can't wait for Friday 31st March as the Noble Jacks who are a rip-roaring Alt-Folk band with roof raising energy, are coming to Honiton. These lads are going places, they were fantastic at Chagstock last summer with their mixture of folky footstompin' rhythms and engaging lyricism. The band encompasses heartfelt, yet uptempo songs showcasing fiddle, blues harmonica and big anthem toplines. We also have the lovely local singer songwriter Adam Sweet as the support act, so a great night in store for all!

For a complete contrast, on the Saturday, April 1st at 7.30pm we have 'No Finer Life', a play written by Graham Harvey (Agricultural Story Editor of The Archers and writer of more than 600 episodes), which brings to the stage the true tale of an unlikely Cotswold hero and an enduring romance. What inspires a young Somerset land girl to set off in search of a bestselling author in the darkest days of war? The story moves between the 1940s and the current day, reflecting that the love of the countryside, the need to protect it and issues of national identity, are timeless.

The show features new live music composed and performed by Alastair Collingwood, who has written scores for numerous theatre and TV shows. Graham Harvey will be taking part in an after-show conversation - where he will discuss the issues in the play...and all things Ambridge!

What a lovely selection, I'm enjoying March already! Do join us at the Beehive and to see more info check out our website www.beehivehoniton.co.uk where you can often see trailers, pop in & grab a flyer or join our database for our monthly newsletter and any updates.

Happy times, Wendy

Top mezzo-soprano to give Concerts in the West performance

AN OUTSTANDING mezzo-soprano will be taking centre stage at the second of Concerts in the West's 2017 concert series tour. Clare McCaldin has a powerful creative influence and tremendous presence both on the opera stage and concert platform, which she will be demonstrating in full at performances in Lower Pulworthy (Devon), Bridport and Ilminster in March 2017.

Clare's diverse career encompasses a busy concert schedule and she has worked with pianists such as Libby Burgess, Iain Burnside, Andrew West and Paul Turner. She is committed to chamber music collaborations and has undertaken commissions with the Brodsky Quartet, Walton's Facade, La Rejouissance and Le Page Ensemble.

In operatic repertoire she has sung a wide range of parts, including Fox (The Cunning Little Vixen), Meg Page (Falstaff), Oreste (La Belle Helene) and Dorabella Orsze (Harry Janos). In concert, Clare has sung with the Academy of Ancient Music, Philharmonia Orchestra, Die Kölner Akademie, the Northern Sinfonia, the choir of King's College, The Three Choirs Festival, Barokksolis-tene, the Orchestra of the Golden Age and the Northern Chamber Orchestra. She made her solo debut at the 2012 BBC Proms in Debussy's Martyrdom of St Sebastian with the BBCSO/Knussen, which also opened the 2014 Edinburgh International Festival.

Clare will be accompanied by Libby Burgess, a pianist, who is dedicated to song and chamber music. Libby collaborates regularly with some of the finest singers and instrumentalists of her generation and is Artistic Director of New Paths, a major festival of concerts and education events, launched in April 2016 in Yorkshire. Libby was an organ scholar at Christ Church, Oxford, where she took a first in music. She has won numerous prizes, as well as the DipRAM for her postgraduate accompaniment studies at the Royal College of Music.

Clare McCaldin plays at Ilminster Arts Centre at

The Meeting House, East Street, Ilminster TA19 0AN on Friday, March 17th at 8pm. Tickets are £15, and a pre-show supper is available at 7pm but must be pre-booked. For bookings or more details call the box office on 01460 55783 or visit www.themeetinghouse.org.uk

Merrie England

WELL-KNOWN tenor Leslie Baker and a group of friends from Seaton Choral Society will present a concert of excerpts from Edward German's 'Merrie England' on Sunday, March 19th.

This delightful work follows in the tradition of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas in being light-hearted, tuneful, rhythmically energetic and with words cleverly set so that they can be heard – not always a feature of opera! It deals (imaginatively!) with the amours at the court of that most popular monarch, Queen Elizabeth I, and includes many a well-known tune such as 'The Yeomen of England' and 'O peaceful England'. At the piano will be that most excellent of accompanists, Michele Banting.

This will be the fourth "Baker Cream Tea Concert" in the series that has become a feature of early spring at The Gateway in Seaton. Previous sell-outs suggest it would be wise to book in advance.

Tickets are £8.50 inclusive from The Gateway Box Office on 01297 625699. Tea will be served from 3pm, with the concert beginning at 4pm

Celebrating the music of Ella Fitzgerald

PRAISED as the 'First Lady of Song', Ella Fitzgerald was a much loved jazz singer who applied her impeccable vocal style to many of the tunes which have become known as the 'Great American Songbook'.

This year is the centenary of her birth and is celebrated at Seaton's Gateway on Friday, March 24th by vocalist Maggie Reeday who has made TV appearances and sung with the BBC Radio Orchestra together with internationally renowned pianist Philip Clouts and his trio.

Expect to hear many favourites including 'How High the Moon' and 'The Lady is a Tramp'. Ella Fitzgerald needs no introduction, as she was one of the most successful and well known singers of jazz, blues and standards of the Great American Songbook. She was noted for her purity of tone, impeccable phrasing and intonation, and her 'scat' singing. She found initial musical success with the Chick Webb Orchestra with her first hit 'A Tisket A Tasket'. She then went on to build an extremely successful international solo career, but she was also well known for her landmark musical collaborations with Louis Armstrong and Duke Ellington.

Tickets are £13 in advance from The Gateway Booking Office 01297 625699. Doors open 7.30pm.

Maggie Reeday is one of the country's finest vocalists who have an engaging style with the audience, and a wonderful sense of fun. During her career she has worked with some of the greatest international jazz musicians.

She has appeared on both television and radio in a variety of shows and has sung for the Scottish Radio Orchestra and the BBC Radio Orchestra.

She is accompanied by the Philip Clouts Trio featuring Jim Rintoul on double bass and Gary Evans on drums. Philip is originally from Cape Town, then after living in London and building a career that has included recordings and appearances at Ronnie Scott's, Glastonbury and WOMAD Festivals, he is now based in Dorset. He has three critically acclaimed CD's to his name The Hour of Pearl, Sennen Cove and his most recent, Umoya.

The Ella Fitzgerald Centenary Show on Friday, March 24th at The Gateway, Seaton promises to be a great swinging evening of jazz and popular standards associated with 'The First Lady of Song'.

Tickets are £13 in advance from The Gateway Booking Office 01297 625699. Doors open 7.30pm.

ON THE SHOWBIZ BEAT

Time to turn the mobiles off, theatregoers

MY THEATRICAL enjoyment was once again hampered this week by the scourge of the mobile phone.

It comes in a week when the government has introduced stiffer penalties for those using their phone while driving and I think we should all take a long hard look at our need for almost constant engagement with the digital world.

Those of you who know me well, will have noticed that I'm a bit of a slave to social media and I hate missing emails or messages, however I would never have my phone on in the car and would die of embarrassment if it ever went off in the theatre.

During a media night performance of Wicked last week the couple sitting in front of me intermittently checked their social media throughout the performance, which was hugely distracting for those around them.

We are not talking about the sound of ringing or even the odd ping of a message (which most people thankfully now understand to be inappropriate) but instead a continuous influx of light pollution, which detracted from the carefully crafted ambience.

What many people don't realise is that your phone acts as a spotlight when you're in the theatre, so everyone on stage and around the auditorium can see you.

In fact, when I perched in an onstage seat at a recent performance of This House at the Garrick Theatre, one particular numpty was lit up like a carnival float for most of Act one, as she couldn't bear to be away from her phone.

It's generally not young people who are the main cul-pits either, and I just wish we could fine the perpetrators and use the money to pay for those less fortunate to attend in their stead.

I know hundreds of people who simply can't afford to see West End shows and yet night after night there are rude and selfish people who buy tickets and then don't pay attention to the production.

Someone once told me that they had a family emergency and so they had to keep the phone on just in case the situation changed. If you've got a family emergency, why the devil are you going to the theatre in the first place?

Worse than that, at my most recent visit to the Arts Theatre for a press performance, a reviewer who was sitting next to me kept lighting up to check messages throughout. I scowled at

■ Ralf Little and Kate Fleetwood star in the harrowing Ugly Lies the Bone at the National Theatre

him, but he didn't take the hint.

I have previously simply told people to turn their phones off, but you are never sure if you're going to be greeted with an angry response, so I've become more careful recently.

It's not just phones that cause anger among regular theatregoers and this week the issue of whether food should be allowed has been a hot topic.

Imelda Staunton hit the headlines last year by saying food should be banned from the theatre and this week the producers of her latest play, Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf at the Harold Pinter Theatre have granted her wish.

An article on The Stage's website (www.thestage.co.uk) claims that in an email to ticket bookers, Ambassador Theatre Group – which operates the Harold Pinter – said no food would be allowed to be eaten during the show.

"Out of consideration for the actors and for fellow audience members, we ask that no food be consumed during the performance," it said.

I don't want to discourage people from going to the theatre, but if you can't manage a couple of hours without eating or checking your phone, well in my opinion, you shouldn't be there.

As you can gather, it really gets my goat and the stagey world has been filled with discussions over the best course of action for a long time.

Right, that's my rant over. I didn't let the phone issue ruin my time in the capital and I had a busy week filled with theatre outings, which included another trip to see Wicked (awesome as usual) a visit to the Apollo to see Tom Stoppard's Travesties (a bit above me!) and my first ever visit to the National Theatre to see a play called Ugly Lies the Bone, which was pretty harrowing stuff.

I also auditioned for my latest local stage foray and I will let you know if I was successful in due course.

Next week I'm off to see The Diary of a Teenage Girl at Southwark Playhouse and as I'm a custodian of a female adolescent, I'm approaching it with trepidation.

I'll also have the pleasure of seeing Harry Potter star Daniel Radcliffe on stage at the Old Vic, which is very exciting and I've got a few celebrity interviews on the cards.

You can read all of my reviews and interviews on our websites londonnewsonline.co.uk and viewnews.co.uk or you can follow me on Twitter for regular updates @NickySweetland

"BEHOLD, MY FRIENDS, THE SPRING IS COME....."

Spring has sprung and Symonds & Sampson's Axminster office are gearing up for their first auction of the season at The Guildhall on the 30th March 2017 at 2:00pm. Carrying on with the success of last year, the sale is looking to be a very good one with a variety of properties and land on offer.

Bowditch Farm Lodge, a former holiday let, is a pretty timber clad property set deep in the picturesque Yarty Valley. Currently surrounded by wild spring flowers, tranquillity is in abundance, with all rooms looking out to the rolling green countryside. The three bedroom dwelling is spacious and light, and offers buyers the chance to adapt and expand. With 0.47 of an acre and a useful timber barn, the property is being guided at £180,000 - £200,000.

Fourways in Alston is generating a good deal of interest being a three bedroom former fruit farm with outbuildings and 4.40 acres. It sits in a peaceful rural location surrounded by its own land with a mixture of broadleaf woodland, conifers and old fruit cages. In need of full modernisation, it is offered at £400,000 - £450,000.

1 Livingstone Villas in Chard is being guided at £180,000 - £200,000, giving buyers the chance to own a substantial Victorian property. Set over three floors, the period house comprises four bedrooms, two reception rooms and two bathrooms with a pleasant lawned garden to the rear.

The final property in the auction is Tindle House, formerly the Pulmans Weekly News building, in Axminster. Currently arranged as offices over two floors, it is thought suitable for various uses (subject to planning). Requiring modernisation, the property is guided at £150,000.

In the same auction, there are four lots of productive pasture land with an excellent general purpose farm building for sale, unusually situated in the middle of Wootton Fitzpaine village. Offering potential for future development (STPP), the land has areas of coppice, two streams and is bordered by mature hedges and trees. Lot A - 5.36 acres at £50,000, Lot B - 9.14 acres at £80,000,

Lot C - 10.21 acres with farm building at £95,000 and Lot D - 23 acres at £180,000.

A few top tips for buying at auction:

1. Arrange to see the property well before the day
2. Get an auction catalogue & brochure
3. Download the Legal Pack & register your interest
4. Let us know if you can't attend but still want to bid, we can accept telephone & proxy bids.

To discuss any of these properties, or if you are considering a sale of your property this year, contact Ross Willmington on 01297 33122 or by email, mrw@symonds-sampson.co.uk

5 TIPS FOR CENTRAL HEATING

By Julia Gray, Press Association

1. The size of your home, especially the number of bathrooms or shower rooms you have, and how much heating and hot water your household uses, will largely determine your choice of boiler. There are three main types of boiler: regular, system and combi. Regular boilers need a cylinder (to store hot water) and tanks. System boilers also need a hot-water cylinder, which allows them to feed several outlets, such as taps and showers, at the same time, but they don't need tanks.

2. Combis are a popular choice, as you only have to find room for the boiler itself - there are no tanks or cylinder, although some combis have a built-in tank, which gives the higher flow rate needed in a bigger property. Combis heat water on demand, so you only pay for what you use, and they deliver it at mains pressure. Combis are most suitable for homes with one bathroom/shower room, although they can work in homes with two, providing they're powerful enough. If you have more bathrooms than that, a combi probably isn't suitable.

3. If you're renovating a property that hasn't been updated in decades, it may be necessary to change the whole central heating system. A new boiler, cylinder, radiators and adjustable radiator valves should make a big difference to how good - and efficient - the system is, but don't overlook the pipework. If the central heating system is gravity fed and you're switching to a pressurised system, the pipework will be under pressure for the first time and may leak as a result. Old copper pipework may not be done to today's standards and may even be leaking without you knowing, so leaving it in place can be a false economy. Most plumbers now use plastic pipework where it can't be seen, such as under floorboards, because it's quicker and easier to fit than copper. They should use copper where it can be seen, such as radiator pipes, and close to the boiler, where it's too hot for plastic.

4. If your boiler has a hot-water cylinder, you may want to get rid of it by fitting a combi, or relocate the cylinder, as new cylinders are often a different shape and size to old ones. This could free up space in your bathroom for a shower cubicle where the airing cupboard/cylinder was, for example. Old boilers also tend to be large, but many new ones aren't and some are so small that they fit in a kitchen wall unit, saving space and giving the kitchen a neater look because the boiler's hidden.

5. Think about any big home improvements, such as an extension or loft conversion, you may make in future and how this will impact on the boiler. Will the existing boiler be able to comfortably supply more radiators and bathrooms, or will you need a new one? If there's a tank for the boiler in the loft and you're planning to convert the loft, the tank will probably have to be changed to one that fits in the eaves' storage, so a boiler without tanks may be better.

Vauxhall announces pricing for new Insignia Grand Sport

VAUXHALL'S all-new Insignia is on sale now priced from £17,115 on-the-road ahead of its world debut at the 2017 Geneva Motor Show next week.

Available as a five-door Grand Sport hatch and Sports Tourer estate, with a rugged Country Tourer estate coming soon, the new range starts at nearly £1,500 less than the entry price into the outgoing line-up.

Range highlights include the all-new 1.5-litre Turbo petrol model priced from £17,115 on-the-road. For Sports Tourer customers, prices start from £18,615 on-the-road for the entry-level estate model. The range-topping 2.0-litre (260PS) 4X4 petrol, another all-new powertrain, is available in Elite Nav trim from £26,455 on-the-road.

One of the highlights of the diesel offering is the 1.6-litre (110PS) Turbo D ecoTEC model (prices start at £18,485 on-the-road) that achieves CO2 emissions of 105g/km. The range includes Design, Design Nav, SRI, SRI Nav, SRI VX-Line Nav, Tech Line Nav and Elite Nav versions.

The new Insignia range offers big savings over key competitors for company car drivers. Thanks to Vauxhall's optimised P11D pricing, the Insignia Grand Sport Design Nav 1.6-litre Turbo D (110PS) ecoTEC saves a company car driver up to £1,983 in benefit-in-kind tax over a four-year/80,000 mile period against a Volkswagen Passat SE Business 1.6-litre TDI (120PS), and up to £1,358 over a Skoda Superb CR SE Technology 1.6TDI 120PS.*

For fleet-decision makers, the Insignia Grand Sport Design Nav 1.6-litre Turbo D (110PS) ecoTEC provides a whole life cost saving of up to £5,691 versus a Volkswagen Passat SE Business 1.6-litre TDI (120PS), and up to £4,350 over a Ford Mondeo Zetec [Nav] 1.5 TDCi ECOnetic (120PS).**

Driver and passenger safety are crucial for both company car drivers and fleet managers alike, which is why the new Insignia range gets the Front Camera System and Vauxhall OnStar, as standard. The Front Camera System incorporates features such as lane keep assist, following distance indicator, forward collision alert, low speed collision mitigation braking and active emergency braking.

Vauxhall OnStar gives occupants access to a host of innovative services including automatic crash response; as well as 4G Wi-Fi for up to seven devices, stolen vehicle assistance, vehicle diagnostics, destination download and smartphone functionality.

The new E-Class Cabriolet

THE new Cabriolet is the fifth and youngest member of Mercedes-Benz's E-Class family, which has been renewed entirely within the space of one year. At the same time, the brand with the star is continuing its tradition of high-calibre cabriolets with a classic fabric soft top. "The passion for extraordinary vehicles, which we share with our customers, is reflected in our new E-Class Cabriolet in a unique way. It is a car that lets people enjoy comfort and luxury in the open air," says Britta Seeger, Member of the Board of Management at Daimler AG with responsibility for Mercedes-Benz Cars Marketing & Sales.

When the soft top is up, the E-Class Cabriolet has a silhouette similar to that of the E-Class Coupé. The close ties between the two models are apparent in their shared design language, with the emphasis on surfaces with clean lines.

A striking front section with a low-positioned diamond radiator grille and centrally located star, LED High Performance headlamps (or optional high-resolution MULTIBEAM LED headlamps), a drawn-out bonnet with power domes and fully retractable side windows underline the dynamic looks of the Cabriolet. The tail lights resemble the glow given off by a jet engine. As a new feature, the tail lights also put on a special show for the driver when they approach or leave the car.

A visual entity comprising anodised, polished aluminium (AMG Line in matt aluminium) is created by the trim frame on the A-pillar and front windscreens along with the shoulderline trim strip and a wide trim finish that surrounds the soft-top compartment. The third brake light is integrated into this frame.

Suspension that is 15 millimetres lower than that of the Saloon emphasises the sporty character of the E-Class Cabriolet. The car thus demonstrates its sporty credentials even with the standard 17-inch tyres (19-inch in the UK).

Pricing revealed for the new MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4

THE MINI brand's first plug-in hybrid model will hit British roads in 2017 – the new all-rounder for town and country now offers the option of purely electric driving with zero tailpipe emissions.

Available to order from today, the new MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4 will launch on 24th June 2017 and is priced from £31,585 OTR. On the road pricing does not include the government plug-in car grant.

The first plug-in hybrid model in the MINI product range offers sporty agility on the road as well as competency beyond the asphalt thanks to its intelligent all-wheel drive system. The MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4 hybrid system is made up of a 3-cylinder petrol engine with MINI TwinPower Turbo Technology and a synchronous electric motor. Together they generate a system output of 165 kW/224 hp enabling the car to sprint from standing to 62mph in 6.8 seconds.

The power of the combustion engine is transmitted to the front wheels via a 6-speed Steptronic transmission, while the electric motor powers the rear wheels. The intelligently controlled interaction between the two power units creates an all-wheel drive system that optimises agility and stability on the road as well as providing supreme traction over snow and unsurfaced terrain.

In everyday traffic the intelligent drive control of the MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4 makes for an intense hybrid driving experience. When setting off, only the electric motor is initially active meaning a virtually noiseless start.

As is typical of electric motors, the entire torque is available from standing. Once a driving speed of 50mph is reached, the combustion engine is gently activated. The eDRIVE toggle switch enables the driver to continue to drive with only the electric engine beyond this point if preferred: in MAX eDRIVE mode the MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4 runs at up to 78mph free of local emissions. The electric range of the first MINI plug-in hybrid model is 25 miles.

The energy required for this is stored in a high-voltage lithium-ion battery. It can be charged at a conventional household socket or, for increased power input and reduced waiting times, at a wallbox or public charging station. Charging takes between 2:15 and 3:15 hours.

The efficiency and pulling power of the electric motor, its cleverly controlled interaction with the combustion engine and the premium quality and reliability of all components of the hybrid system is the result of the BMW Group's eDrive technology. The high-voltage battery comes with a warranty which lasts for six years or 60,000 miles.

The MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4 combines its progressive drive system with the versatile space concept and hallmark brand style of the latest MINI model range. The battery is housed underneath the rear seat and flat load boot floor, minimising drawbacks to boot space and leg room. The luggage compartment volume of the hybrid model is 405 litres, which can be extended to as much as 1275 litres with the rear backrests folded down.

The new MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4 comes with a range of high quality standard equipment. This includes the MINI's acclaimed Satellite Navigation System, Bluetooth, Cruise Control, Emergency E-call and Active Guard among other features. 6-speed Steptronic automatic transmission, the MINI Driving Modes and three spoke sports steering wheel are also offered as standard.

In addition to model-specific design elements such as the "E" emblem on the radiator grille and side scuttles as well as door sill finishers with a yellow "S" logo, the 17-inch light alloy wheels in Light Spoke design are another distinguishing feature exclusive to the model. Inside, hybrid-specific displays and the eDRIVE toggle switch indicate the distinctive character of the MINI Cooper S E Countryman ALL4.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE
Match reports
Whipton & Pinhoe 3
Millway Rise 1
Division Five
ALL of last week's euphoria soon dissipated in a game lashed by strong winds, blustery showers and some disappointing football from Millway writes Dick Sturh.
Although Chris Lusby went close in the first 10 minutes, and Nick Land hit the crossbar, this was as close as they came to upset the first half dominance of the home side.
Nathan Hoole in the Millway goal was called upon to make several last ditch saves to keep the game scoreless at the break.
But Whipton & Pinhoe took the lead two minutes after the break from a powerful strike by Aaron Street.
Worse was to follow 10 minutes later when a free kick from just outside the area was deflected off a defender giving Hoole no chance.
The hosts continued to press and, after missing several chances, finally got their third from a solo effort from Max Bede-Croft.
The best moment for Millway came in the final minutes when defender Matt Lewis got on the end of a Sam Burke cross and placed a powerful header past the home keeper to claw a goal back.
But Whipton & Pinhoe deserved the win.
They were strong, fast and better organised than a disjointed Millway side whose back four found themselves under constant pressure and, but for some timely interceptions by Matt and Haydn Lewis and Zak Meaker, defeat would have been by an even greater margin.

Division Five
BEER ALBION Reserves clawed their way up to ninth place with a comfortable 4-1 win against North Tawton at the Furzebrake on Saturday writes Richard Honor.
The showery, blustery conditions did not make for a great spectacle but the game was played in a good spirit with plenty of endeavour and it was the Fishermen who had the cutting edge on the day.
BUDLEIGH SALTERTON
Strikes from Luke Finn and Aaron Daniels, who put in another stylish performance on the right flank, and Ben Vine put the Tigers away and clear by the hour mark. Daniels netted his second with a low drive that flashed into the net off the inside of a post in the 79th minute.
But the best was saved till last when Garrett launched a 20-yarder that flew into the top corner seven minutes from time. Budleigh finished the game with nine men after having two players dismissed for bad tackles.
Beer started the game strongly. minutes Jack White intercepted a poor pass in the seventh minute but his shot was scrambled around the post by the North Tawton keeper.
From the resulting corner Ollie Page opened Beer's account from 15 yards.
A rout seemed possible when five minutes later left back Steve Howe surged past two defenders and his speculative shot from the edge of the area effort slipped through the visiting keeper's fingers.

There were even more goals at NEWTON ST CYRES whose improvement continued in a hectic game at home where they beat CLYST VALLEY 6-4.

THIRTY three seniors played in a three-man Texas scramble last Monday.

With the threatening rain keeping off, some impressive scores were recorded and the first four places all recorded sub 60 rounds.

Result: 1st Rod Stevens; Keith Branchflower & John Sweet 56.17, 2nd John Pearce; Paul England & Nick Hill 59.00, 3rd Trevor Dobson; John Wandless & Colin Ireland 59.33.

Although the weather was unfavourable on Wednesday, 27 members attended the three-man "all to score" combined stableford competition. With some of the greens being temporary, the scoring was somewhat enhanced.

Result: 1st Mike Mosser; Don Taylor & Martin Putland 111 points, 2nd Richard Forster; Martin Leigh & Brian Forbes 103, 3rd Barrie Heath; Ian Houseman & Paul Bennett 99.

Meanwhile, the Seniors' match team were beaten 3½-2½ at Axe Cliff in their first match of the season with four players having never played the course before.

Results: Roger Stone & Ian Griffiths won 3&2, Alan Chance & Mike Hone won 2&1, George Wallace & Andy Beale lost 2&1, Bill Hilson & John Wandless halved, Alan Davis & Stuart Pope lost 2&1, Martin Bargery & Barrie Singleton lost 2&1.

The Seniors March Hare competition was postponed due to the weather.

AXE CLIFF with Dave Bruce & Peter Motson
ON Saturday, the annual Captains' Drive-In was held when the Club celebrates the election of its three new Captains.

The present format is a SHOTGUN competition played as a Texas Scramble with three players on each tee.

The new Captains - Jo Dommett (Ladies), Steve Anning (Main club) and Dave Bruce (Seniors) start the event by driving on the first hole and the members have to estimate where their respective balls are going to land by putting lollipop sticks on the fairway (or rough!).

The weather was windy and wet but this did not stop 54 members from completing the course.

The overall winners were Mike Cottam, Leighton Morgan & Chris Walker with a net 64.7.

Steve Anning, on behalf of the Captains, thanked everyone for their support. The course was in perfect condition and thanks to the hardworking greens staff.

Meanwhile, the Ladies held their first Medal Round of the year Sandra Walker came in first with a net 79. Followed by the net 80s from Barbara Cummings who beat Margaret Kenchington on a countback.

The Mens section recently played their Winter League round seven, format Stableford. Top scorer was Nigel Pritchard with 37pts. In second (on back nine) was Craig Trivett with 36 with Mike Wickins third Trivett and Anthony Hellier both carded 2s.

The Men played their Winter League round eight the following week, format Medal. Stuart Mackie finished first with a net 63. Close behind was Simon Sweetland (net 64) with Dave Morgan third (net 66). Mackie scored the only two.

The Men played a Texas Scramble on February 26th, format, Medal, teams of three, six drives each. The winners were Mike Cottam, Matt Coburn & Steve Backer with net a score of 57.8. Three 2s were recorded by Paul Curtin, Andrew Hellier and Ian Burraston.

HONITON with John Pawley

ONCE again the weather played a controlling role.

On Tuesday the monthly mixed draw took place but only 14 holes were played. The team coping best with the conditions, and winners of the Chivers Centenary Goblets were Lesley Farley & John Frith, who scored 26 points. Maureen Tollemache & Bob Barnes took second place on count-back from Sue Kelson and Ron Graham, both scoring 25.

On Wednesday the ladies played their first medal competition of the season and, with only one temporary green, it was a qualifier. In deteriorating weather conditions, most of the 14 members got wet.

Despite this Ann Trayling showed her class, as one of the two Silver players who participated, and returned a great score of 74. Of the seven Bronze One players only two were in the frame - Ann Desmoulins (80) and Gill Johnson (83).

Five Bronze Two players entered with Susan Hyde leading with 85 followed by Jan Portlock (87).

The overnight rain, and forecast for Friday meant that the Seniors had to lose the competition, and a round of the eclectic. The greens staff are now waiting for a quieter, drier spell before they can work on the greens again ahead of the spring.

Four goals in strong second half showing

Honiton Hornets 5 Dawlish 0

HONITON played third place Dawlish in their latest Petroc 2 league match.

Dawlish boast one of the best goalkeepers in the league - a real challenge to get the ball past.

Honiton started well and created a good number of chances.

With the midfield controlling the game, Katrina Tucker's shot would have beaten most keepers but was just tipped wide to keep the Hornets off the score sheet.

In the end a quick pass from Sophie George saw Lizzie Burton free just outside of the circle and she found Vanessa Trude who deflected it past the keeper.

The match was not all one-way, but Honiton's defence, including new player Maddy Raynor, were up to the task of keeping a clean sheet.

In the second half Honiton went up through the gears and added four more.

Trude scored twice to complete her hat trick and Lizzie Burton netted her first two league goals for the Hornets.

Joint Players of the Match were Lizzie Burton and Vanessa Trude with Maddy Raynor a vote behind.

In other league results, second placed Ashmoor who are the only other team who can now win the league put an impressive 10 unanswered goals past Sid and Otter as bringing their goal difference closer to the Hornets so all still to play for in the last three matches.

Honiton Hornets are always keen to welcome new players to their friendly and competitive team. Please see www.wcwhl.co.uk for contact details.

South West One

AFTER winning the toss, Chard surprisingly decided to take advantage of the slope and elements in the first half on Saturday

This made it imperative to build up a good lead by the break because the home side would certainly know how to make the most of the slope in the second half.

Chard created several good opportunities but their play in the first half was generally below standard.

This was particularly so in the line-out where they struggled all afternoon.

The scrum functioned well in set piece situations with Liam Mustchin, in only his second full game, having a particularly promising match.

Chard did have several chances to get on the score board in the first half but were unable to take advantage.

After a disappointing performance Chard reached the half time interval with the scores level at 0-0.

In the second half Chard were pinned back by some good territorial play by Matson and, although their own performance was an improvement on the first half, they were unable to stop the hosts from building up a 19-0 advantage.

Jason Wright and Darren Goetz tackled well throughout but, although the scrum was not too bad, this was not a good day for Chard.

The Chard 2nd xv league game against Yeovil was postponed on Friday evening because the main pitch was waterlogged.

Chard did have several chances to get on the score board in the first half but were unable to take advantage.

After surviving the pressure from

Chard, the hosts booted the ball

downfield and won the chase for the touch down to score their second try.

Both sides were struggling to play decent rugby but just before the break Weston scored again to lead

The second half was strewn with errors from both sides, but it was a competitive contest and both Mark

Cornelius and Man of the Match Ian

Mackenzie had good games.

Weston completed the scoring with their fourth try late on.

the runaway league leaders.

Weston ran over for their first try in the opening minutes.

Chard responded positively but unforced handling errors ruined their chances of getting on the score board.

Ilminster trio through to County final

HONITON with Julie Grant

HONITON lady bowlers experienced the highs and lows of the game last week.

A hard fought win over Torquay United was followed by a loss to Torbay.

The victory over

TORQUAY came in the county Top Club by three events to two and puts Honiton into the Lacemakers

Trophy final against Plymouth on March 26th.

Shirley Hiscocks & Rosemary Hiron are having a fantastic win in the pairs and both of these players will feature in national Area finals in the coming weeks. Shirley in the fours with Ann Brown, Heather Chambers and Julie

Grant, and Rosemary in the Two Wood Triples with Ann

Hillyear and Rita Barwick.

The 82-61 defeat by TOR-

BAY came in the county

Foxlands League. The only

winning rink, playing away, were Berry Maynard, Carol

Hilary Angold, Janet Bodily & Gillian

Leighton.

The finals are scheduled for Saturday, April 1st at Taunton Deane.

The fours may join them if they can overcome Clarrie Dunbar in their semi-final.
